Why Engineering Horizons

- Diverse Company with extremely experienced and competent staff
- Our people have managed these projects
- We have the in-house expertise and lessons learned
- Client specific solutions – we do not market or sell a specific technology or product from a specific manufacturer or vendor
- We embed ourselves and work with the client's experts to deliver the most optimised product at the best price
- Our aim is to deploy the technology and support the client but to essentially help the client to create their own experts for the future
