Competency Process

This process controls the training and competency of the company staff.

Input: Requirement to increase the competency of the employees, either through new starters or increased training of existing staff members.

Output: Increased staff levels of competency.